For more than 20 years, Adult & Child Health's JobLinks program has helped the people of Central Indiana to not only find employment, but also to develop the knowledge and skills needed to succeed in the modern workplace.

A nationally accredited provider of Vocational Rehabilitation Services, JobLinks services focus on the individual throughout the employment process—identifying options that fit each client's personal interests, goals, and job skills.

With an established network of local employers who look to JobLinks for strong employees, we help about 300 people each year find the opportunity that's right for them.
